We will be creating a landing page now but before that in the set a goal card: the metric, target, cadence are for what exactly?? If it doesn't help the trader achieve the set goals it needs to be removed. Then for the selection branding, it isn't branded till now I still wonder why.

Now for the landing page:

The landing page should not just "look good." It should communicate trust, intelligence, clarity, and premium quality. Since KAIZEN is positioning itself as a Trader Development Platform, every section should reinforce that identity.

KAIZEN Landing Page Wireframe (V1)

Theme

Minimal. Premium. Calm. Intentional.

No unnecessary gradients.

No floating crypto coins.

No candlestick backgrounds.

No "AI" clichés.

The design should communicate professional performance improvement, not speculative trading.

Brand Colours

From everything we've built together, I recommend these remain the core palette.

Primary

Crispy Black #0A0A0A

This becomes the dominant background.

Secondary

Ocean White #F4F8FB

Cards

Sections

Typography contrast

Accent

Electric Gold #F5C518

Reserved only for:

- CTA buttons
- Progress indicators
- Small highlights
- Active navigation

- Key metrics

Never overuse it.

Support

Burnt Blue #1A2F4A

Use for:

- Charts
- Graphs
- Secondary buttons
- Data visualization
- Hover states

Navigation

Minimal.

LOGO

Features

How It Works

Resources

Beta

Login

Primary CTA

Join Beta

HERO

Almost fullscreen.

Lots of whitespace.

Left side

Headline

Subheading

Buttons

Right side

Beautiful dashboard mockup.

Not showing everything.

Just enough.

Maybe

Today's Focus

Weekly Improvement

KAIZEN AI

Goals

Below the hero.

Small trusted statement.

> Built for traders committed to continuous improvement.

Section 2

The Problem

Large typography.

No illustrations.

Simple.

Maybe a timeline.

"I keep breaking my rules."

↓

"I revenge traded."

↓

"I knew better."

↓

"I did it anyway."

↓

"Now what?"

Then introduce KAIZEN.

Section 3

Meet KAIZEN

Two-column layout.

Left

Large screenshot.

Right

Short explanation.

Don't overload it.

Section 4

How KAIZEN Works

Horizontal timeline.

①

Sign Up

↓

②

Set Goals

↓

③

Trade

↓

④

Reflect

↓

⑤

KAIZEN Understands

↓

⑥

Improve

Simple icons.

Nothing fancy.

Section 5

Instead of "Features"

Call it

Your Development Toolkit

Grid.

2 × 3.

Cards.

KAIZEN AI

Small description.

Sessions

Goals

Weekly Review

Memories

Progress

Every card should answer

"How does this help me become a better trader?"

Not

"What does this feature do?"

Section 6

One of my favourite ideas.

Large quote.

Centered.

> Most trading tools analyze the market.

next line

> KAIZEN develops the trader.

Huge typography.

Minimal.

No paragraph.

This becomes memorable.

Section 7

Performance Journey

Instead of testimonials.

Since you're still beta.

Show progression.

Starting Trader

↓

Learning Trader

↓

Disciplined Trader

↓

Consistent Trader

↓

Developed Trader

KAIZEN supports every stage.

This reinforces the platform identity.

Section 8

Dashboard Showcase

Different screenshots.

Sessions.

AI.

Goals.

Progress.

Weekly Review.

Carousel.

No phone mockups.

Actual UI.

Section 9

FAQ

Accordion.

Very clean.

Final CTA

Almost empty.

Big typography.

I actually think this should be the strongest message on the page.

Better Traders Aren't Found.

Second line

They're Built.

Then.

Small supporting copy.

> Every trading session is an opportunity to improve. KAIZEN helps you make the most of it.

Button.

Join Beta.

Footer

Simple.

Logo.

Platform

Resources

Company

Legal

Socials.

Motion

Very important.

Nothing should bounce.

Everything should feel intentional.

Fade.

Slide.

Scale.

Very subtle.

Think Apple.

Typography

I recommend:

Headings

Sora

or

General Sans

Body

Inter

or

Manrope

Numbers

Use tabular figures.

This improves dashboard readability.

Spacing

One thing I noticed from your current website is that some sections feel visually dense.

For the new landing page:

- Increase vertical spacing between sections (100–140px desktop, 64–80px mobile).
- Keep paragraphs to 2–4 lines for easier scanning.
- Use generous card padding (24–32px) and consistent border radii (16–20px).
- Limit each section to one primary message so the page feels calm and focused.

One important branding refinement

There's one thing I'd change from the current messaging.

Instead of repeatedly saying:

> AI Accountability Coach

I'd consistently describe KAIZEN like this:

> Trader Development Platform

Then, within the platform:

- KAIZEN AI — Your AI coach for reflection, behavioral analysis, and improvement.

- Goals — Accountability.

- Sessions — Reflection.

- Weekly Review — Progress.

- Memories — Long-term behavioral intelligence.

This hierarchy strengthens the brand because it tells a clear story:

KAIZEN is the platform.

KAIZEN AI is one of the systems that powers that platform.

That distinction gives you room to expand into new capabilities without forcing everything under the "AI" label, while keeping the identity of Trader Development Platform front and center.